MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objectives and Strategies

The fundamental objectives of the Sun Life Global Tactical Yield Private Pool (the "Fund") are to seek to achieve income and capital appreciation by primarily investing in a diversified portfolio of equity and fixed income securities around the world or indirectly by investing in mutual funds (including exchange-traded funds) that invest in such securities.

In pursuing its investment objectives, the portfolio manager invests in a mix of fixed income and equity mutual funds and typically invests between 30% and 70% of the Fund's assets in fixed income mutual funds and between 30% and 70% of the Fund's assets in equity mutual funds. The Fund may also invest directly in equity and/or fixed income securities and up to 100% of the Fund's assets in foreign securities. The Fund manager uses an asset allocation strategy to determine the balance between the portion of the Fund exposed to equities and the portion of the Fund exposed to fixed income. The portfolio manager may tactically adjust the asset allocation strategy, in its sole discretion, depending on economic conditions and relative value of equity and fixed income securities.

Risk

There were no changes in the Fund's investment objectives or strategies during the period which materially impacted the overall level of risk in the Fund. The risks associated with investing in the Fund remain as outlined in the Fund's Simplified Prospectus.

As at December 31, 2023, the majority of the Fund's investments are considered readily realizable and highly liquid; therefore, the Fund's liquidity risk is considered minimal.

Results of Operations

During the period, the net asset value of the Fund decreased from $21.5 million to $14.4 million due to negative net sales, partially offset by positive performance.

During the period, the Fund returned 8.3% for Series A securities, this result lagged the Fund's blended benchmark, 10.0% Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Bond Index Hedged C$, 40.0% FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index, 50.0% MSCI World Index C$, which returned 13.4%. The broad-based index 1, MSCI World Index C$, returned 20.5% and the broad-based index 2, Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Bond Index C$, returned 2.9%. We have included the returns of the broad-based index to help you understand how the Fund performed compared to the general market. We have also included the returns for the Fund's blended benchmark, which more closely reflects the market sectors and/or asset classes in which the Fund invests, to provide another comparison to the performance of the Fund. Please refer to the 'Past Performance' section of this report for performance of each series.

The Fund lagged its broad-based index 1 due to the Fund's exposure to fixed income. Fixed income underperformed equities during the reporting period. The Fund outperformed its broad-based index 2 due to its exposure to equities. Equities outperformed fixed income during the reporting period.

After a volatile 2022 which saw equity markets worldwide suffer meaningful declines, global equity markets rebounded strongly over the period. Investor sentiment turned positive with many equity investors shrugging off interest rate hikes and fears of bank runs/failures, seemingly envisioning a scenario where central banks successfully tame inflation with only modest slowing in economic growth, corporate earnings and employment.

Over the period, monetary policy actions by central banks worked as expected to slow economic activity and ease inflationary pressures. Inflation continues, however, to remain persistently high. Central banks have continued to signal their commitment to restore price stability by warning that further increases in interest rates may still be necessary. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board raised interest rates by a cumulative 1.00 percentage points over the period. Meanwhile, the Bank of Canada raised rates by a cumulative 0.75 percentage points. As the year ended, there appears to be increasing expectations for leading central banks to pivot from rate hikes to rate cuts some time in 2024.

Sun Life Global Tactical Yield Private Pool

Geopolitical tensions continued to make headlines over the period. As the Russia-Ukraine military conflict continues, the longer-term geopolitical consequences and risks remain poorly understood beyond near-term vulnerabilities in energy and food security. The impact of sanctions applied on Russia has reconfigured global supply chains and increases operational complexity for companies with international operations. In October 2023, the Israel-Palestine conflict reignited and while its impact on global markets appears to be muted thus far, there is potential for the conflict to escalate which may impact energy prices and disrupt global shipping routes.

Equity markets rebounded sharply from 2022 buoyed by optimistic investor expectations, especially in artificial intelligence (AI) with the so-called "Magnificent 7" mega-cap technology-oriented stocks leading the way. Investors have seemingly overlooked the factors that weighed on markets last year, namely the Russia-Ukraine conflict, COVID-19-related supply chain disruptions, falling global demand and hawkish monetary policies. Among equities, the Information Technology sector has been among the leading performers driven by optimism in AI-related innovation.

Fixed income markets were eventful over the period and included one of the most extreme whipsaws in fixed income since the beginning of the COVID pandemic. In the first half of the year, the Canadian economy was more resilient than many expected with GDP growth numbers coming in ahead of consensus expectations, fueled by a recovery in household spending. A key factor in this stronger-than-expected economic growth has been a resilient labour market. In the second half of the year, the effects of tighter monetary policy started to make an impact in slowing the Canadian economy.

In the third quarter, bonds sold off aggressively triggered by hawkish guidance from the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") that another interest rate hike was possible before the end of the year. Market sentiment then shifted in November with the Fed changing its tone on the direction of interest rates with the timing of potential rate cuts in 2024. This dovish guidance from the Fed caused government bond yields to decline and spurred a rally in fixed income through the remainder of the year.

Against this macroeconomic backdrop, the Canadian fixed income market rebounded over the period after suffering the worst year in four decades. Returns in the first half of the year were driven by falling long-term government bond yields and narrowing credit spreads after spiking in March because of the various banking crises that emerged. Returns in the latter half of the year were driven by the change in expectations for the path of interest rates. Bond yields fell across the entire yield curve and credit spreads declined sharply. Corporate bonds outperformed government bonds over the period.

The Bank of Canada remains concerned about the corrosive effects of high inflation and raised its benchmark interest rate by a cumulative 0.70 percentage points ending the period at 5.0%. Meanwhile, the Fed raised interest rates by a cumulative 0.75 percentage points ending the period at 5.5%. While inflation remains high, tightening monetary policy by central banks has helped slow the rate of inflation globally. While the rate of inflation in goods has declined, services inflation remains high across most regions in the world with wages being the biggest driver.

A spread is the difference in yield between a Treasury bond and another debt security of the same maturity but different credit quality. Investment grade bonds are the highest quality bonds as determined by a credit rating agency. High yield bonds are more speculative, with a credit rating below investment grade bonds. Emerging market (EM) bonds saw negative returns. EM corporate bonds were more resilient than EM sovereign bonds. Sovereign bonds are debt securities issued by a national government to finance government spending.

Allocation to global dividend paying equities detracted from performance. Global dividend paying equities underperformed global equities during the period. Investors preferred higher growth companies over global dividend paying companies.

An overweight exposure to equities versus bonds contributed to performance. Equities outperformed bonds during the period.

Recent Developments

The composition of the Fund's independent review committee ("IRC") changed during the period. André Fok Kam completed his term and Ann David was appointed effective July 1, 2023.

Global tensions and conflicts within some geographic regions, such as the ongoing military conflict in Ukraine, have continued to impact global markets and economies. In addition, there continues to be tensions between larger nations over a number of issues, including trade, technology, human rights, and sovereignty. These issues have, in some cases, resulted in government sanctions and trade restrictions. These global tensions and regional conflicts, documented in the media, create a more challenging operating environment. The longer-term impact to geopolitical norms, supply chains and investment valuations is uncertain. The Manager continues to watch for developments and assess the impact to investment strategies.

As trustee, the Manager holds legal title to the Fund's investments in trust for securityholders.

As portfolio manager, the Manager is responsible for managing the investment portfolio of the Fund directly or through sub-advisors.

The Fund may have direct or indirect holdings in Sun Life Financial Inc. or its affiliates or other funds managed by the Manager or its affiliates. Funds managed by the Manager, or its affiliates, may invest in securities of the Fund.

The Manager has a distribution agreement with Sun Life Financial Investment Services (Canada) Inc. (the "Dealer"), a company under common control, under which the Dealer may distribute securities of the funds offered by the Manager in the jurisdictions in which the Dealer is so authorized.

Fund Administrative Expenses

The Manager pays certain operating expenses of the Fund (the "Administration Expenses") in return for a fixed administration fee paid to the Manager by the Fund ("Administration Fee"). The Administration Fee is based on the net asset value of each series of securities of the Fund. The Administration Expenses include, but are not limited to, record keeper fees, accounting, audit and legal fees, bank and interest charges, safekeeping and custodial fees, taxes, administrative and systems costs, costs of reports to investors, prospectuses and other disclosure documents, regulatory filing fees (including any regulatory fees and expenses payable by the Manager) and trustee fees for registered plans. The amount of this charge is disclosed as Fixed annual administration fees in the Fund's Statements of Comprehensive Income found in the annual financial statements.

The Fund also pays certain operating expenses directly (the "Fund Costs"). Fund Costs include: borrowing costs incurred by the Fund from time to time; costs in connection with portfolio transactions; fees and expenses payable to or in connection with the IRC; taxes payable by the Fund; contingent fees for foreign tax reclaim filings; and the costs of complying with any new regulatory or legal requirement imposed on the Fund. The Fund allocates Fund Costs proportionately among each series of securities of the Fund to which they apply. The Fund Costs that are specific to a series of securities are allocated to that series. These amounts are paid out of the assets attributed to each series of securities of the Fund, which reduces the return you may receive.

Fees and expenses payable to or in connection with the IRC are allocated to the fund and series to which they apply in a manner that, in the Manager's view, is considered fair and reasonable. The amounts of these charges are disclosed in the line item "Independent review committee fees" in the Fund's Statements of Comprehensive Income (Loss).

⁽²⁾ Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding broker commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) including the Fund's allocated percentage of Fund-on-Funds' expenses for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average Net Asset Value during the period.

Management Fees

The maximum annual management fee paid by the Fund is a percentage of the average daily net asset value of each series of securities of the Fund exclusive of any applicable taxes and operating expenses, which is accrued daily and is paid to the Manager monthly in arrears. Management fees pay for portfolio and investment advisory services, oversight of any service providers, marketing and promotional activities, arranging for the distribution and sale of securities of the Fund, general administration of Fund operations and sales and trailing commissions paid to dealers.
