MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objectives and Strategies

The Sun Life Schroder Global Mid Cap Fund (the "Fund") seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation primarily by investing directly in a diversified portfolio of medium capitalization global companies or indirectly by investing in mutual funds that invest in such securities.

The Fund's Sub-Advisor is Schroder Investment Management North America Inc. (the "Sub-Advisor"). In pursuing the Fund's investment objectives, the Sub-Advisor invests primarily in the equity securities of medium capitalization global companies and, to a lesser extent, equity securities of small and large capitalization global companies. The Sub-Advisor focuses on identifying companies with superior growth prospects, while remaining cognizant of valuations and uses a combination of quantitative and fundamental models, seeking to add value from country decisions and stock selection.

Risk

There were no changes in the Fund's investment objectives or strategies during the period which materially impacted the overall level of risk in the Fund. The risks associated with investing in the Fund remain as outlined in the Fund's Simplified Prospectus.

Results of Operations

During the period, the net asset value of the Fund increased from $397.4 million to $951.8 million due to positive net sales, as well as positive performance.

During the period, the Fund returned 20.0% for Series A units, this result surpassed the Fund's benchmark, which returned 19.8%. The performance returns for other series of this Fund are similar to those of Series A except for differences in expense structures. Please refer to the 'Past Performance' section of this report for performance of each series and a definition of the benchmark and broad-based index if applicable.

Stock selection in North America was strong over the reporting period driven by relative strength amongst Health Care holdings. Financials, Industrials, Consumer Staples, Materials and Real Estate also made positive contributions as did the Fund's holdings and underweight position in Energy. The Fund's stock selection in Consumer Discretionary and underweight position in Information Technology were the notable detractors.

Pacific ex. Japan holdings also added positive value over the period. Stock selection in Australia and Hong Kong were leading contributors to the Fund's performance. The Fund's Emerging Markets exposure negatively impacted performance because of weakness amongst Taiwan and Korea holdings.

Stock picks in continental Europe were the most significant detractor driven by relative underperformance in Industrials, Information Technology, Consumer Staples, Communication Services and Materials. There was some positive offset from strong stock selection in Consumer Discretionary sector although this was partially offset by the Fund's overweight allocation to what was an underperforming sector in the region.

Recent Developments

The Manager announced on November 29, 2019 that it intended to separate Series O securities from the Sun Life Global Investments Private Client Program for all the mutual funds that it manages. Subsequent to the reporting period, the Manager implemented this change to the Private Client Program on February 26, 2020.

Fading fears of a near-term global recession, the announcement of a partial trade deal between the United States and China and the decline in uncertainty over Brexit helped strengthen market sentiment late in the period. Changes in market sentiment, largely driven by uncertainty over the outcome of trade negotiations between the U.S. and China, had contributed to periodic bouts of volatility during the reporting period. The global economy slowed, led by weakness in China and Europe, although the pace of the slowdown moderated late in the period amid promising signs of stabilization in the manufacturing sector.

The deteriorating global growth backdrop, along with declining inflationary pressures, prompted the U.S. Federal Reserve ("Fed") to adopt a more accommodating stance beginning in early 2019, resulting in the first interest rate cut in over a decade at the end of July, followed by additional cuts in September and October. The Fed's actions led to a sharp decline in long-term interest rates during the period's second half, causing the inversion of portions of the U.S. Treasury yield curve for a time. Amid an improvement in risk sentiment in Q4 2019 and indications of a bottoming in growth and potential upturn in activity, the Fed indicated in October that further rate cuts were unlikely unless the outlook for the economy materially worsened.

Globally, central banks have tilted more accommodating as well, with the European Central Bank unveiling a package of easing measures, which included reducing overnight rates further, restarting its bond-buying program and lengthening the term of cheap loans to banks to three years from two. The central banks of India and Australia are among those that have cut rates several times in recent months, with China cutting rates only marginally as it keeps trying to deleverage its economy.

Those conditions improved in 2019 as the Fed became more accommodating. Notwithstanding the periodic headwinds on market sentiment from significant trade friction between the U.S. and China over much of the year, emerging market bonds benefited from relatively cheap valuations at the beginning of the period and easier global monetary conditions. These factors, plus the fading of certain global risk factors mentioned above, hastened spread-tightening in the latter part of the period.

The Manager cautions that the current global uncertainty with respect to the spread of the coronavirus (COVID-19) and its effect on the broader global economy may have a significant impact to the volatility of the financial market. While the precise impact remains unknown, rapid spread of the virus may have a material adverse effect on global economic activity and disrupt global supply chains, operations, mobility of people, which could affect interest rates, credit ratings, credit risk, inflation, business, financial conditions, results of operations and other factors relevant to fund performance.

Related Party Transactions

Sun Life Global Investments (Canada) Inc. (the “Manager”) is the manager, trustee and portfolio manager of the Fund. For its services, the Manager receives a management fee that is calculated as a percentage of the average net asset value of the Fund. This fee is calculated daily and payable monthly.

The Manager is responsible for the provision of all general management and administrative services required by the Fund in its day-to-day operations, including providing or arranging for the provision of investment advice, bookkeeping, recordkeeping and other administrative services for the Fund.

As trustee, the Manager holds legal title to the Fund’s investments in trust for unitholders.

As portfolio manager, the Manager is responsible for managing the investment portfolio of the Fund directly or through sub-advisors. The Manager has retained Schroder Investment Management North America Inc. to act as a sub-advisor for the Fund.

The Manager is an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Sun Life Financial Inc.

Fund Administrative Expenses

The Manager pays certain operating expenses of the Fund (the “Administration Expenses”) in return for a fixed administration fee paid to the Manager by the Fund (“Administration Fee”). The Administration Fee is based on the net asset value of each series of the Fund. The Administration Expenses include, but are not limited to, record keeper fees, accounting, audit and legal fees, bank and interest charges, safekeeping and custodial fees, taxes, administrative and systems costs, costs of reports to investors, prospectuses and other disclosure documents, regulatory filing fees (including those incurred by the Manager) and trustee fees for registered plans. The amount of this charge is disclosed as Fixed annual administration fees in the Fund’s Statement of Comprehensive Income found in the annual financial statements.

The Fund also pays certain operating expenses directly (the “Fund Costs”). Fund Costs include: borrowing costs incurred by the Fund from time to time; costs in connection with portfolio transactions; fees and expenses payable to or in connection with the Fund’s Independent Review Committee (“IRC”); taxes payable by the Fund; and the costs of complying with any new regulatory or legal requirement imposed on the Fund. The Fund allocates Fund Costs proportionately among each series of the Fund to which they apply. The Fund Costs that are specific to a series of securities are allocated to that series. These amounts are paid out of the assets attributed to each series of securities of the Fund, which reduces the return you may receive.

⁽⁴⁾ The Fund's portfolio turnover ratio indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio manager manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover ratio of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover ratio in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high portfolio turnover rate and the performance of the Fund.

Management Fees

The maximum annual management fee paid by the Fund is a percentage of the average daily net asset value of each series of securities of the Fund exclusive of any applicable taxes and operating expenses, which is accrued daily and is paid to the Manager monthly in arrears. Management fees pay for portfolio and investment advisory services, oversight of any service providers, marketing and promotional activities, arranging for the distribution and sale of securities of the Fund, general administration of Fund operations and sales and trailing commissions paid to dealers.
